

RMGV396 - Villa for sale in Betera

Unique, state-of-the-art villa overlooking a golf course in Torre en Conill, Valencia.

This unique, one of a kind villa features cutting edge modern design that makes it stand out from the rest. The straight lines infused with oblique angles and sloping gradients exhibit an almost cubist style when viewed from certain vantage points.

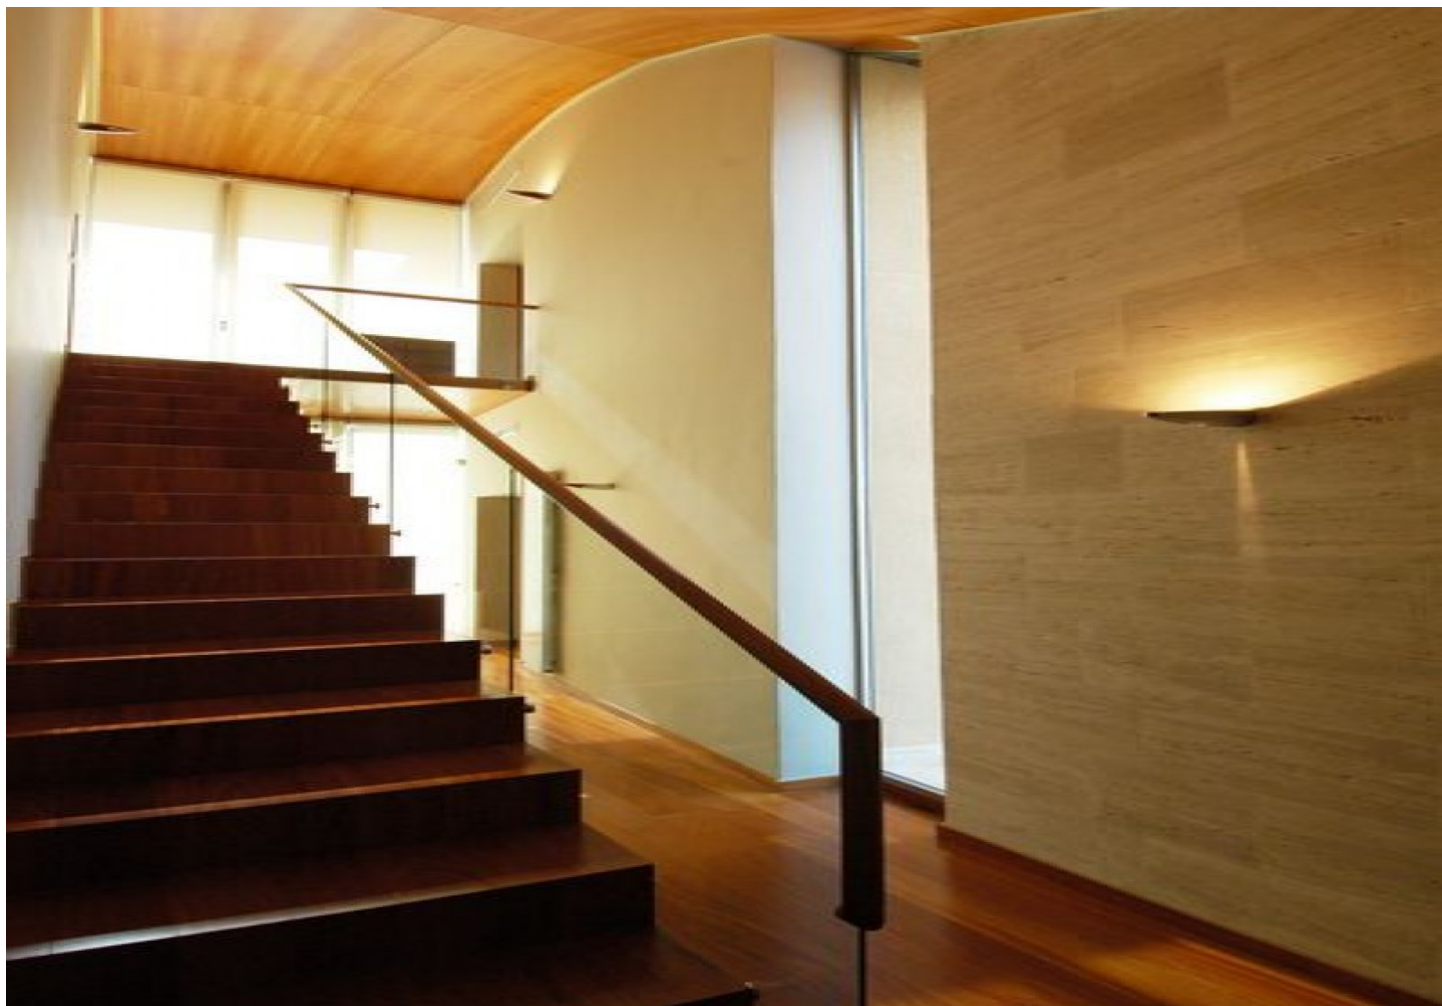

Set on almost 1100 square metres of land, the large 400 square metre home is located within the exclusive Torre En Conill development, Valencia, with easy access to the city, the airport, the connecting motorways, the mountainous hinterland and the Mediterranean resort areas. Striking from its front façade, the home overlooks the fairways of the Escorpión Golf Club, creating a sense of unfolding greenery that starts in the lush, minimalist garden and extends into the rolling landscape of the golf course.

The driveway leads down into a large three-car garage located underneath the home. The architect has used the gradient of the land to create different, split levels that enhance the sense of design. Luxury materials are evident everywhere, from polished chrome and fine marble to polished hardwoods and frosted glass. Striking design and decor are heightened by large windows that allow lovely views which are enhanced by the property's slightly elevated position.

Wonderful manipulation of light, space, form and texture creates a truly unique and special living environment, in which a modern high-tech kitchen is a highlight. The homes living and dining rooms likewise enjoy modern styling and the kind of high-tech features that one would expect in a home like this, ensuring comforts such as air-conditioning and a wireless Internet connection are the least of your worries.

The five bedrooms and three bathrooms enjoy decor worthy of a luxury hotel, each one offering the occupant ambience and space, not to mention lovely views. The minimalist, sculpted garden features a lush lawn, a rectangular swimming pool and a marble terrace deck. This is a home for the modern style connoisseur in the most exclusive suburb of Valencia.
